SIAMS Inspection

Statutory Inspection of Anglican and Methodist Schools (SIAMS)

The SIAMS process has been devised by the National Society to standardise inspection practices and judgements in all Church of England and Methodist Schools and to meet the requirements of Section 48 of the Education Act 2005

The SIAMS / S48 evaluates the distinctiveness and effectiveness of the school as a church school and how well the distinctive Christian character and ethos of the school ensure the development and achievement of the whole child.

The main focus is in the outcomes, i.e. the impact of provision rather than the provision itself.

There are four key questions:

- How well does the school, through its distinctive Christian character, meet the needs of all learners?
- What is the impact of collective worship on the school community?
- How effective is religious education?
- How effective are the leadership and management of the school as a church school

Stretton Handley Church of England Primary School had its last SIAMS Inspection in 2012.

The next inspection will be on Thursday 16th March and will be led by Louise Patterson.

The Inspection Report will be posted on our website when it is published.

Thank you to everyone who completed and returned the Church School Parent Questionnaire we sent out a couple of weeks ago. This has helped us to find out your views about what you feel about Stretton Handley as a church school.
